for El Paso and will arrive here Sunday night. Francisco S. Madaro has not yet announced his representative but stated Friday night that it will probably be his father, Francisco S.
Madaro, Sr. It was originally intended to appoint Dr. Gomez but his interview in New Orleans in which he stated he doubted the ability of Madaro to control the situation has caused the Provisional President to change his mind.

The Provisional Governors of the district in the triangle included in the armistice zone are arriving here and

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., April 23.— Farmers and residents living in the wooded section between the Highlands and New Paltz are today fighting the forest fire that is burning rapidly towards the town of Lake Mohawk.

If they do not succeed in checking the fire in a few hours it is feared that little can be done to save the settlement. Last night an unknown young woman rode from farm house to farm house warning the inhabitants of the impending danger of the flames, savped in the rush of fire.

Pennsylvania Will Gain Four 'New Congressmen'

WASHINGTON, April, 29.—(Special.) The Republican House of the last Congress passed an apportionment bill increasing the number of Representatives from 391 to 433, a gain of 42. The Democratic House today passed a bill increasing the same number. Before the assembling of the present Congress the Democratic caucus adopted a resolution to support the bill of Palmer of Pennsylvania which was preferable in the name of economy, to the bill of the House of Representatives, which would have created 100 superfluous employees and ending the good old custom of giving 'all on the spot' to the members of Congress. The bill of the House would have created 40 at the end of the session, saving of $32,000 per annum would be effected. The action of the House today is an open declaration of extravagance, in that, as it probably will, will add to the expenses of the government the salaries of 42 clerks, a total annual addition to the pay roll of $378,000.

If the salary increase were the whole story, the net result of Democratic action to date with the economy program would be a saving of $100,000. Ineffective, would be an addition of $190,000 a year to the expenses of running the House. That, however, does not end the matter. The House would have paid millions to and from his home and must be provided with stationery and other necessities. The expenses of the members may be easily accounted, a charge of not less than $50,000 a year.

As the salary increase was the whole story becomes a law Pennsylvania will gain four members of Congress and Indiana one. The House will have a caucus convention. As the Legislature will have adjourned by that time and the State cannot be transported until the legislative session is over, the new Congressmen will have to be elected for the State at large, that is, they will have no district to represent. District tickets. Already attention is being given to this interesting prospect by Pennsylvania's Washington.

—Miscellaneous—

ASSISTANT SECRETARY (Special).
has passed an appropriation bill increasing the number of representatives from 501 to 435, a total of 42. The Democratic House today passed a bill providing for the same increase. Before the bill reaching the Senate, Congress the Democratic caucus adopted a program for the Representatives of the House. Pennsylvania Representative Tamm, who is a member of the caucus, was profered in the name of economy, a program for the Representatives of the House. The program is to eliminate superfluous employees and ending the good old custom of giving all on the payroll a raise. The program is to pay at the end of the session a salary of $38,000 per annum would be effected. The program is to eliminate the appropriation bill passes the Senate, as it probably will, will add to the payroll of the Representatives of the House of 42 representatives and their 42 clerks, a total annual addition to the payroll of $1,524,000.

If the salary increase were the whole story the net result of Democratic action would be an addition of $1,524,000 and the increase of representatives effective, would be an addition of $196,000. The net result of Democratic action would be an addition of $1,720,000 to the House. That, however, does not tell it all, for each member must be given a new automobile, a new home and must be provided with lanterns and office furniture, etc., so that the added cost of the House would be an additional charge of not less than $500,000 a year.

If the bill passed by the House to increase the number of Representatives to gain four members of Congress and incidentally eight delegates to the national convention of 1916, the House would have adjourned by that time and the State cannot be reapportioned until the next session of 1915, when the Congressmen will have to be elected for the State at large, that is, they will be elected by the State on district tickets. Already attention is being given to this interesting prospect by Pennsylvania in Washington.

Special to The Courier.
WASHINGTON, April 29.—R. C. Beck of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., is one of about a dozen Americans imprisoned at Chihuahua, Mexico, with regard to the Mexican revolution. His place has made no report to the State Department. The men were actively engaged with the insurgents and were captured in disgrace. The consuls reports that their condition in Chihuahua was deplorable, they being unsupplied with food and with anything of comforts. They have been in prison for several weeks. The consular learning of their condition, they were supplied with blankets and food by American residents of Chihuahua and are now in comparative comfort.

R. C. Beck formerly served in the United States army and, it is said, completed a three-year term in the Philippines. Returning to this country the revolution aroused his interest and he joined the insurgents in quest of adventure. He got more than he bargained for. Beck is said to be the United States army and well known in Mt. Pleasant. His parents are dead. The State Department will instruct its representatives at Chihuahua to look after the welfare of the men and see that they have a fair trial.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say good by to those to too scalding, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of urine; the aitches and pains in the back; the grooving muscle weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin; sluggish bowels; swollen feet; nervousness; indigestion; unnatural short breath; sleeplessness; and then dependency?

Yes, you can depend on this. If you want to make a quick recovery, you ought to get and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you a great deal for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you—entirely free. Just drop me a line like this. Dr. A. E. THE REGULATION OF
PRIVATE FOREIGN BANKS.

The failure of two foreign banks in Windsor, Somerset county's big mining town, and the disappearance of their proprietors with some $800,000 of the money of their depositors, is only another addition to the long list of similar experiences which the press has been called upon to record in the past decade.

In recording these failures, it has frequently been urged upon the foreign workers that the best and safest banks in the community are the National and State banks and trust companies, whose affairs are subject to close and constant government inspection and regulation, and that in such banking institutions their money will be lodged with greatest security.
In making this statement, there has been no disposition or desire to reflect in any manner upon the many honest, careful and solvent foreign bankers, but only to point out the difference between banks whose investments and operations are open to official inspection and private banks whose business is open to no scrutiny save only by the proprietors.

It has been suggested that there should be a law requiring private banks to undergo government inspection just the same as other banks.
Such a law would be good for the foreign bankers as well as their depositors, and the upright foreign bankers would doubtless welcome it; but private business is not open to public inspection, and we do not see how a Constitutional law of this nature could be framed.

It would be possible, however, to frame a law requiring government inspection and certification of private banking institutions upon the request of the proprietors. Such a law would give private banks who employed it the confidence of their customers, and would tend to withdraw that confidence from those who refused to take advantage of the law.

THE STEEL CORPORATION:
ITS POLICY AND MANAGEMENT.

The report that Robert H. Gary, the executive head of the United States Steel Corporation, would soon retire from that position, is promptly and emphatically denied by the gentleman himself. His testimony may be regarded as conclusive. Nobody is capable of knowing his mind quite as well as himself.

Judge Gary goes further and declares that there is perfect harmony in the councils of the corporation.
This also may be accepted as a fact.
There are no external evidences of inharmonious conditions in the corporate management other than rumors that find their way into the press occasionally and which are usually incompatible to competitive quarters.

This harmony that Judge Gary speaks about has perhaps not always prevailed. It is an open secret that some of the young partners who resigned their positions were not fully in accord with the continuous and consistent Gary policy of maintaining prices at reasonably profitable levels, even when the sustentation of that policy enabled competitive concerns to take more than their fair share of the business at cut rates.

But that policy has been good for the corporation, and better for the country; it is not saying too much to assert that it has been a material factor in preventing panics on more than one occasion. The United States Steel Corporation may be a Trust in the commonly accepted definition of the term, but it is also a large partnership with many stockholders and it is hampered with more fairness to the latter and to the public than a vast majority of other corporations, little as well as big.

So long as it behaves itself so well it should have the respect and confidence which is accorded all honest citizens.

The officials of the Chamber of Commerce promptly and enthusiastically denied Mr. C. Jones was authorized to speak for them. They said they were for them, at the meeting of the Town Council this week. Speaker Jones, through the Chamber of Commerce,

A NEW DANDY IN THE PARK.

WASHINGTON
CORRESPONDENCE.

United Press Special.
WASHINGTON, April 20.—Mention of the biennial cent lottery in the House by one of several visitors in Champ-Clark's office today led the Speaker to relate his experience a tale that undoubtedly gives him a record for favorable location on the House floor.
At the opening of the new Congress seats, with a few favored exceptions, were awarded by lot. That exceptions are and favored members; floor leaders of each party, former speakers and a couple of old-time members were reserved first choice. Then mail, numbered balls, each number representing a Congressman, were placed in a box and withdrawn one at a time. The name of the Congressman is called as each number is drawn and he is entitled to take any unoccupied place.
Members mused in the lobby waiting for their names to be called are mostly in a state of great excitement.

"In the first Congress of which I was a member," said Clark, who is serving his ninth term, "I was the first one named to take a seat on the Democratic side. I took the end seat, in the first row, in the aisle next to the main aisle, and it was a good one."

"In the next two Congresses I was again the first Democrat called and I took the end seat in the third row in
the aisle next to the main aisle."

"While on a street car, on the way to the opening of the new Congress, in which I served, I said to a companion, 'according to the doctrine of chances and probability, I ought to be the last Democrat to draw a seat today.' I was next to the last and got a seat in the outside rim near the door. Hundreds of Democrats who came in as a new member that year, had drawn a seat next to the one I formerly occupied and I kindly volunteered to trade with me. The occupant of my former seat 'swapped' with me and I was back in the third row in
the aisle next to the main aisle."

"Now he occupies the choicest seat of all the Speaker's room, and is guaranteed by many as the highest in the government, except the Presidency."

In a further observation as to chance Mr. Clark said: "Proctor, one of the greatest astronomers, calculated that the chance of holding a straight royal flush was one in a million."

"Theoretically, a party leader on the floor I was given choice of seats, and I took the end seat in the third row in
the aisle next to the main aisle."

all the Speaker's room, and is guar-

Congress to Investigate Alleged Political Activity Of Postmasters by Passing Saunders Resolution.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The postoffice department and the postmasters of the country are to be subjected to a rigid investigation by Congress. The House committee on expenditures in the postoffice department has decided to act in response to a resolution introduced by Representative Saunders of Virginia, providing for such an inquiry. The committee is to ascertain how much actual time postmasters devote to the service of the department, their outside business affiliations, political activities and whether they are personally active in campaign work, especially with reference to the collection of political assessments.

The committee on postoffice and post roads, of which Representative John A. Moon of Tennessee is chairman, is in favor of the investigation resolution, and the Democratic majority of this important committee will cooperate with the committee on expenditures in the postoffice department in the work outlined in the Saunders measure.

A NEW PROVISION IN SCHOOL CODE

Making Medical Inspection of Pupils Compulsory Objected To.

THE SENATE TO OPPOSE IT

Big Power Company in Which Pittsburgh Men Are Interested, Will Meet With Opposition—New Laws Signed By the Governor.

HARRISBURG, April 29.—Preliminary steps in a campaign to strike from the school code the provision for compulsory medical inspection of all children of school age were started yesterday and the members of the Legislature remaining in the city last night are receiving numbers of letters asking them to lend their aid to that object. A State-wide protest against the retention of the sections of Article XV of the code which relate to medical inspection has arisen and the bill may have trouble getting through the Senate on Tuesday with that part of its provisions untouched. Many members who are willing to accept the State Board of Education and other features of the measure for Pennsylvania a codification of its school laws are opposed to the mandatory provisions for medical inspection. It is understood that on Monday strong representations will be made to the men in charge of the code in the Senate that the clauses dealing with the subject should be modified so as to allow school officials discretion in the matter.

Declaring that the project to establish a giant power plant to be fed by the waters of the Clarion river and Pottsville creek was only a speculative scheme and that, if the charter asked by a group of Pittsburghers were granted, the work of the Pittsburgh Flood Commission would be interfered with, George H. Maxwell, executive director of the Flood Commission, today asked the State Water Supply Commission to refuse approval of the charter applications. Legislators, residents and attorneys for interested representatives millions of dollars of invested capital in the value of the two streams joined in the protest, declaring that industries would be wiped out and over 6,000 people forced to leave their homes. One estimate was that the damage done by the back-siphon water would reach $10,000,000. The project against which the protests were so emphatically made, is known as the Clarion river power enterprise. J. B. Paul, J. H. Rogers, J. E. Koss and Cyril C. Crick of Pittsburgh are understood to be among the most influential in the enterprise. It is said that large capitalists are behind them. Eighteen charters are asked for water power, water and electric companies, to cover large districts in Forest and Clarion counties.

Governor John M. Tener yesterday approved the following Senate bill: Whereby, refunding to George T. Christ of Allegheny tax paid by him for a notary's commission which became void.

Clark bill, increasing salaries of court officers from $220 to $250 per year, and of justices from $180 to $200 per year in counties of from 60,000 to 150,000 inhabitants providing that no such counties shall have more than six justices employed at one time.

Under bill, amending section two of the Orphan's Court act of March 24, 1877, by striking out the proviso that said act shall not apply to counties of less than 200,000 population. The effect of this bill is simply that the official bond of registers in all counties having separate Orphan's Courts need be approved only by the judges of the Orphan's Court. Up to this time such bond in counties of less than 200,000, had to be approved by the Governor, too.

Tustin bill, amending the following acts so as to fix the number of jurors or viewers in each at three. Railroad crossing bill act of June 18, 1907; County bridges act of June 18, 1907; dock and ferry act of June 18, 1907; Borough highway act of May 21, 1907.

The Governor also approved the following House bills: After bill, reimbursing the Western Penitentiary in the sum of $1,210 for gratuity paid discharged convicts, and in the sum of $2,142.35 for expenditures incident to the fire in the laundry. S. E. Jones bill, appropriating $300,000 to pay the 15 per cent bonus in townships which have abolished the work tax on roads.

The Governor also approved Senator Snyder's concurrent resolution, petitioning Congress to allow a tablet to be placed on the wall of the corridor joining the Senate Chamber, inscribed with the resolution of the House of the thirty-seventh Congress, thanking the 230 soldiers from Pennsylvania, who reached Washington on April 13, 1891, in defense of the Capitol.

INJUNCTION GRANTED

By Judge Van Swearingen Against Natural Gas Company.

Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen yesterday issued a temporary injunction against the Greensboro Gas Company restraining it from drilling through the coal or mines or mining operations of the Champion-Connellsville Coke Company or in any way trespassing on the property of the same or interfering with the safe, proper and convenient mining of said company's coal or operating its mines or conducting its business. May 2, 1911, is the date set for the hearing.

Oral Examinations.

Oral examinations were given Thursday in Mine Inspector I. G. Roby's class for 16 men who passed the recent written tests for fire bosses. Valuable suggestions were given in the oral tests and practical information imparted which will be very useful in the everyday work in the mines. There was a thorough drill in handling the safety lamp in gas. Following the oral tests certificates were issued.

MANY FOREIGNERS LOSE LARGE SUMS

Of Money, Savings of Years, by Failure of Two Somerset Banks.

BANKERS HAVE LEFT COUNTRY

Staff Correspondent of the Pittsburg Dispatch Places the Loss in Savings by Closing of the Banks at $600 Over Half Million.

A staff correspondent of the Pittsburg Dispatch writing from Windhorst sends the following story of the recent failure of two foreign banks in Somerset county:

"Two owners of the leading foreign banks here are missing and two towns are completely tied up financially and on the verge of bankruptcy so far as the foreign population is concerned. A pall hangs over Windhorst. The streets are jammed with a woebegone and dejected and sullen aggregation of broken men and women. They have lost their all through having placed implicit faith in Andrew Zomany, head of the Zomany chain of banks and steamship agencies, and M. F. Korlath, owner of the Magyar banks of Windhorst and Scarp Level, one of its suburbs.

It is estimated conservatively that the two banks had on deposit $500,000 when the doors closed.

"The victims are all poor, hard-working people. They are not all foreigners, as many American citizens and business people of Windhorst and neighboring villages are among the depositors. An investigation today disclosed the fact that almost every hamlet in Somerset county in which there are foreign residents has been hard hit by the closing of the Zomany banks. Villages in both Bedford and Cambria counties can also produce sufferers by the score. All through the humbering districts of Somerset county the woodsmen, who had succeeded in having a few hundred dollars as down money, are now left with nothing. The same holds good with the big foreign population of miners in Windhorst and Scarp Level.

"The situation is tense in the extreme. Trouble of serious character is liable to break out at any minute. In case it does, the two towns will be at the mercy of the victims of the bank wreckers. They have observed a quiet, almost indifferent, demeanor so far. There has been a reason for this, however. It has taken them several days to realize they have lost everything they had saved for years and now they are demanding their money or vengeance.

"From the more remote sections of the counties of Somerset and Cambria, tonight are trekking lumbermen and miners, who have just learned the enormity of the financial crash. It is not an uncommon sight to see, along the highway, men accompanied by their wives and children, faint in front of the Zomany bank in Graham street when they learn the true condition of affairs.

"There have been many pathetic and heart-rending incidents since the closing of the banks. One has resulted in the town authorities having to take care of an entire family that has been rendered penniless through the closing of the Zomany bank. The family consists of John Berwick, his wife and three children. They had made preparations to sail for Europe, having secured steamship tickets for a steamer that leaves New York at noon Saturday. They packed their luggage and brought it to the railroad station here.

"The head of the family then went to the Zomany bank to draw out $100, all he had in the world. He fell prostrate in the street when he learned the bank was closed and there was no opportunity of securing the money. Another sad scene transpired at the railroad station when the balance of the family realized their predicament. There have been similar cases connected with the disappearance of Korlath.

John Bogtry, a wealthy druggist of New York, brother-in-law of Korlath, has rekindled his anger at the creditors to make good all the losses. He realizes now their full extent, according to a letter received yesterday by Marcus Wahl, a hotel proprietor of Scarp Level. He states he has found the missing banker to be much deeper in debt than he thought and says he has not sufficient money to fulfill a promise that he would liquidate the debts. He claims he has already furnished Korlath with $15,000. Loss than a month ago he gave the missing banker $10,000 on a mortgage on his property in Scarp Level. Frequently he claims to have advanced him from $1,000 to $2,000 in alleged shortages. Bogtry in his letter states that the police must first capture Korlath before he will agree to have anything further to do with the wrecked bank.

"Some of the more aggressive of the foreigners are advocating violence in case they do not succeed in getting their money. The town has but two police officers and in case the victims make up their minds to secure revenge it will be hard to determine where the trouble will stop. The bank wrecking started with the sudden disappearance and closing of the banks operated by Korlath. One of these is in Windhorst, the other at Scarp Level. It is estimated that he got away with about $70,000. No attempt has yet been made to examine his books.

"A few days after it was realized that Korlath had disappeared and his depositors had no chance of securing their money customers of Andrew Zomany's bank started a run on Monday and about $11,000 was paid out. The announcement was also made the bank would open again the following day. It did not, but depositors were put off with a written promise to pay some time.

"Zomany on Saturday went to Somerset and declared himself a bankrupt. At his home tonight an intelligence regarding him was refused. His brother, who operates a jewelry store in which he was interested, declared he knew nothing of his whereabouts nor the probable amount of his liabilities. Three appraisers and an assessor have been appointed by the Court. They have seized the bank books and tonight are making an attempt to appraise what is left. There is little outside of his home and a few small pieces of real estate. One of the assignees, Justice of the Peace Robert Colborn, is of the opinion that liabilities of the Zomany Bank will aggregate nearly $750,000. The books so far as examined show that Banker Zomany had nearly 1,000 depositors, whose deposits, it is claimed, ranged all the way from $100 to $14,000. These, in many cases, represented the savings of a life time. All has been swept away unless securities or unknown assets to a large amount are discovered.

"No warrant has been sworn out for Zomany, but a reward has been offered for the capture of Korlath, and detectives from Johnstown are thought to be close on his trail. It has been announced he is in hiding near there and his arrest is momentarily expected. If captured he will be taken to Windhorst for a preliminary hearing, where the information charging embezzlement and obtaining money under false pretenses has been made. In case this is done it will be difficult to control the foreigners and Americans, who are panic stricken because of the loss of their savings."

"Dutch" Myers Plays Full Game

Dutch Myers, the former Coker, played his first full game for Brooklyn yesterday. He was in Davidson's position in middle field. Out of four times at bat Dutch plucked out a pair of singles. He scored one run and had a putout.

Brooklyn beat the Philadelphia team 5 to 0, Holl holding the Phillies to four hits. Sherwood Mingo failed to connect safely in four bakes to the plate. Humphries, former Charlotter twirler, worked five innings against the Superbas and held them to three hits and no runs. He relieved Rowan.

Baseball Notes.

It looks as though Hunter had clinched the first base job with the Pirates.

After several years of pinch hitting Dode Criss is back in the box pitching for the Browns.

The big league scouts are all out on the job and eager to grab the youngsters that look good.

The Giants look like a lot of gladiators when they run up against Charlie Doolin's Quakers.

Bill Bradley, the old Cleveland player, is looking after the third station for Toronto, and doing good work.

Boston fans believe they have the greatest outfield in the business in Speaker, Lewis and Hooper of the Red Sox.

During his school days in West Virginia Dick Hoblitel, the Cincinnati first baseman, was a star football player.

Mrs. H. H. Robinson Britton, a niece of the late Stanley Robinson, has been elected vice president of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The New York Americans will dedicate the new ball park at Cincinnati next spring a few days before the opening of the regular season.

No brides can travel with the Athletics. Connie Mack says that his players must leave their wives at home. And Connie himself a bridegroom. Can you beat that?

Third Baseman Zimmerman of the Cubs has to stand for a lot of rough stuff in Chicago. Every time he makes a hobble the fans become peeved and holler for Stultfeldt.

If Jimmy McAleer's Washington outfit can hold fast to their present speed, American League teams will not be able to join the Nationals down in the second division and keep them there. No, sir!

Manager Fred Tenney of the Boston Rustlers is another old boy with a return ticket. Fred is showing the same winning stuff that he displayed the year Tucker Hill was discovered.

The South Dakota League has been organized with teams in Mitchell, Aberdeen, Watertown, Huron, Redfield and Faulkton.

The Oakland and Los Angeles teams gave the Pacific Coast League fans a good run for their money recently by playing an 13-inning game.

Pitcher Earl Moore of the Quakers is showing a fine line of spring bending. Earl is shooting over the pin the same way as he does in July.

The Eastern League turned out some classy players last season. Johnson and Blake of the Yankees, Tooler and Zimmerman of the Dodgers and Williams of the Boston Red Sox are all graduates of the Barrow circuit.

Evidently Owner John J. Taylor of the Boston Red Sox loves the St. Louis scribbles. In a recent interview Colonel Taylor fed a Boston reporter the following: "I trust that the Boston papers won't turn out to be like the St. Louis ones. In always being there with a knock for the home team."
